CASE STUDY

Sheraton Grand London Park Lane

Background

The Sheraton Grand London Park Lane is located in the heart of Mayfair, London. Its Art Deco interior and ideal location are adored by thousands of visitors each year.

The Brief

We were approached to provide a detailed condition report and estimated costs to restore the gallery level balustrades to their former glory.

The Result

The gallery level balustrades and lanterns are made up of over 650 separate casts and fabricated pieces of solid nickel-silver, held together with more than 2600 minute nickel-silver machine screws. The balustrade had to be dismantled entirely, components repaired or replaced as necessary, deep-cleaned, polished and rebuilt ready for installation.
